

Privacy Statement

This Statement describes Mediationdictionary information gathering and dissemination practices for our web services at <http://www.Mediationdictionary.com> and linked pages (collectively, "the Web Site" or "our Site"). By visiting our Web Site, you are accepting the practices described in this Privacy Statement.

Collection and Use of E-mail and User Information

Mediationdictionary.com does not collect your personal information except when you knowingly provide such information as the result of the use of one or more of the features of this web site.

Mediationdictionary.com maintains strict security over all information you share, and uses such information to provide you with a better web site and related services. We may share aggregate demographic information (but not data specific to any individual) with other publishers and training organizations in order for them to gain a better understanding of the traffic patterns on the Web Site.

In most cases, Mediationdictionary.com will not share your contact or demographic information with entities unrelated to Mediationdictionary.com, or its affiliated parties. We may, however, use such information to notify you of important changes to our Web Site or of special offers, services, or products we think you'll find valuable.

Customer Information

Mediationdictionary.com has numerous security measures in place to protect you from the loss, misuse and alteration of the information under our control. We request you not include any credit card information in e-mail correspondence with Mediationdictionary.com.
